

These children are all children of Key workers. They are being looked after in school together for the day. They start talking to each other about recent events and how they feel. Try and imagine what they might be feeling inside, thinking about in their head or saying to each other.

You could get some ideas by talking to members of your household.

