Natural Art

Take a walk in your local area to collect leaves or petals before creating these cute natural pictures. You could either create them while out on your walk and leave them for others to admire, or once you are back home.