Welcome

Welcome to our latest what's on guide. There are lots of exciting shows, exhibitions and events coming up at Mansfield Palace Theatre and Mansfield Museum, or Cultural Services as we are officially called.

You may have noticed that we've had a rebrand and are now represented by a purple star for the theatre and green triangles for the museum. Let us know what you think of our new building exterior and website which incorporate this new look – we're really proud of it and hope you like it too.

We're so much more than 'just' your local theatre and museum and like to think we have something to offer everyone in our communities, as well as being a safe space for anyone who needs us.

From clothes swap shops to craft sessions in the museum and from youth theatre to celebrities on our main stage, our programme caters for you whatever your age or tastes. Did you know you can hire our spaces for your own meetings and events? Or that our education team can tailor sessions for your group or class – either you come to us or we can come to you, we even deliver virtual sessions if you need us to. Drop us a line to find out more.

We're on a roll with our toilet fund thanks to you! For every ticket purchased, we ask customers to donate to our appeal to upgrade our facilities, not only so they have the makeover they need, but also to ensure we are inclusive for all visitors' needs when they spend time with us.

In a nutshell, we want you to be at the heart of everything we do here at Cultural Services and you'll find out more about the projects we are currently running throughout this brochure. From becoming a Welcome Volunteer to contributing to our Creative Women Together and Windrush Generation programmes, we can't wait to welcome you soon.

Shakers – Under New Management

 Thursday 29 September to Saturday 1 October
7.30pm (2.30pm matinee Saturday)

 Tickets £18 | schools £10

 Duration 2hrs

The double BAFTA winning partnership bring their writing skills to the classic play Shakers, sister play to Bouncers.

The high street might be struggling to get back to normal but the Shakers bar is under new management and they are determined to make it the place to be seen.

Pubs are closing, gin bars are so yesterday, and cocktails and decadence are back for the roaring 2020s, as the hospitality industry looks to a new future.

Misogyny is rife, in the home, in the workplace, and on the streets. The walk home after closing feels longer than ever, the customers are getting more leering, the hours longer, but the pay hasn't changed. For waitresses Adele, Nicky and Mel, their lives juggle home, work, school and everything in between, but how long can it be maintained?

Funny, physical and fizzing with wit, Shakers might just be the bar that we all want to be seen in!

Join us in this revamped version of the iconic play which puts women's lives front and centre, as everyone returns to going out!

BY SIR ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE

ADAPTED FOR THE STAGE BY NICK LANE

A mysterious, coded message is received, a warning of imminent danger, drawing Sherlock Holmes and the faithful Dr Watson into a tale of intrigue and murder stretching from 221B Baker Street to an ancient moated manor house in the bleak Pennsylvanian Vermissa Valley. Faced with a trail of bewildering clues, Holmes begins to unearth a darker, wider web of corruption, a secret society and the sinister work of one Professor Moriarty.

Initially a politically charged post punk band influenced by Brian Eno's ambient soundscapes, China Crisis soon crossed over to a more commercial sound and had success in the UK in the 1980s with ten Top 50 singles and three Top 40 albums.

In Stoke on Trent in the early seventies, a young Gordon Hendricks played to an imaginary crowd. Harmonising his voice to a constant soundtrack, played on repeat by his sisters. The music was rock 'n' roll. The artist was Elvis.

Little did he know then that this would lead to a phenomenal career impersonating The King. Karaoke led to ITV's Stars in their Eyes, seen by Elvis' own songwriter Geoff Morrow.

Touched by Gordon's voice that "recaptured the spirit of the song", Geoff signed Gordon to his label and the two recorded and released Where Will I Be, a song originally written for Elvis.

The show transports you through time from the '68 special through to the Vegas era, breathing soul into ballads and those iconic jumpsuit numbers that set the stage on fire.

"You've never seen me like this before. You've never been this close. I'm inviting you to spend an intimate evening with me – think of it as coming back to my place for a night of stories and songs."

Pellow Talk is a chance to learn all about me, not just as a singer and songwriter with Wet Wet Wet, but as a boy and a man. It's a chance to understand the DNA of the hits that we've listened to and loved over the years.

The evening will be wrapped in music, from songs you know to ones you'll get to know. There'll be laughter as we travel from the banks of the River Clyde to the top of the charts, then onto Broadway and beyond.

There'll be no mask and no character. This is me, Marti, stepping out of the shadows, speaking directly to you. The invitation is there. I hope you come and spend some time with me. Enough living has been done for a life to unfold. Enough years have passed for a story to be told."
